THE REACH MUSEUM

January 29, 2026

Price: $50 each

Drive yourself to The Reach
by 10:30

Lunch provided at Rattlesnake Mountain Restaurant
after the museum.

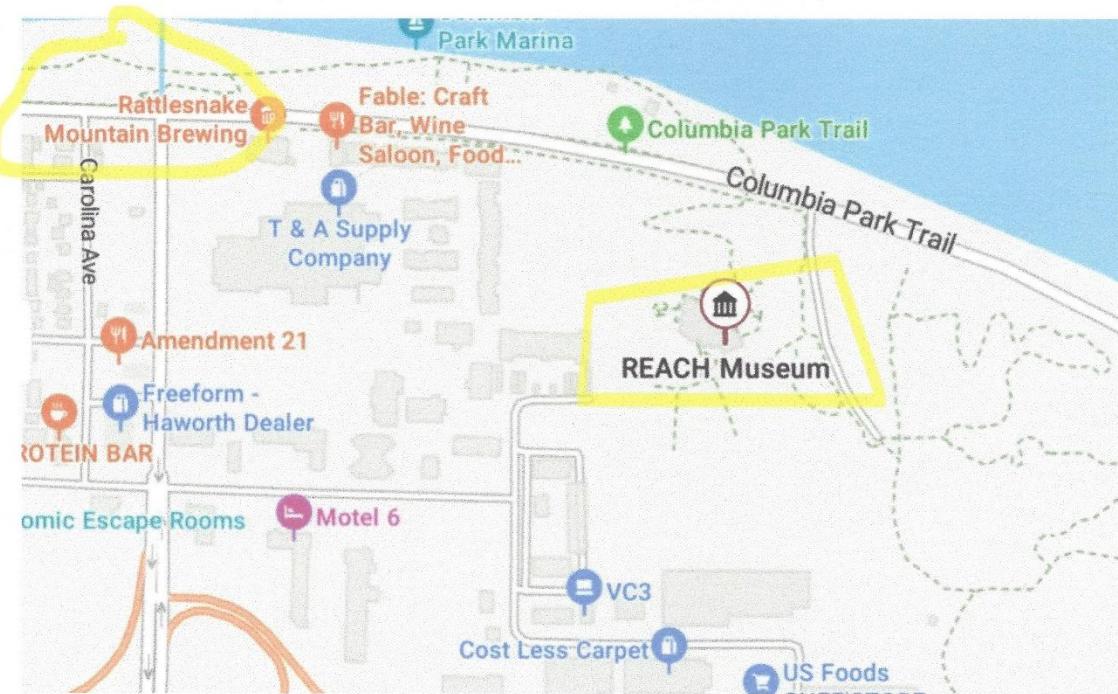

The REACH Museum is the central hub for telling the story of both the Manhattan Project and the Hanford Reach National Monument. Learn about the science behind the creation of the atomic bomb, the human stories of those who lived and worked at the Hanford Engineering Works during the Manhattan Project. By connecting the history of the Manhattan Project and the beauty of the Hanford Reach, the REACH provides a complete picture of the important role this area has played in shaping the world as we know it today. There are sections on local Native American tribes and on the geology and floods in our area.

Drive yourself to The Reach. See map on reverse side. Our member Chris Webb will be our docent to show us around.

*Afterwards, drive to Rattlesnake Mountain Restaurant for a provided

ELK FEEDING AT OAK CREEK WILDLIFE AREA

When snow blankets the mountains, the elk are forced to migrate to the foothills to find food. Wintering elk may eat from 3 to 10 pounds of hay per day at the feeding stations, most of which is grown and purchased from Washington farmers. Elk begin arriving at the Elk Feeding Station at Oak Creek Wildlife Area as early as mid-November, with the largest part of the herd arriving in January. There is also a Visitor's Center.

New Traveler Coordinator – dated 12/18/25

It's not a done deal yet until our President, Marsha Hathcox officially appoints a new Trip Coordinator at the January Board meeting but the Board has been talking to Rover member Lorrie Pope and she has agreed to be appointed Trip Coordinator starting in 2026. Linda McCarty will not be reappointed Trip Coordinator. Linda also announced at the November General Meeting that regarding the Friendly Excursions trips for 2026, she encouraged members to sign up right away because she no longer plans to promote them through Rambling Rovers.

Lorrie has been a Rover member for six years and is experienced in arranging many trips. Before the Board talked to Lorrie, she had her own travel plans to Tennessee, Belize and Mexico. She said she's looking forward to creating trips for the Rovers starting in late March or April. Many of her trips will be through travel agencies she has been working with for a long time. While she will be offering longer trips, she's also interested in creating shorter trips and even using smaller buses for trips that don't get as many to sign up. It's a new adventure and both our Board and Lorrie are willing to see how it pans out.

“Food Bank donations for December weighed 281 lbs. Martha's Cupboard weighed 15 lbs. December total is 296 lbs. 2025 total is 2573 pounds. Food Bank workers were thrilled and said be sure our group knows how much they appreciate our help. Rovers are fantastic!!” – Thank you Verna!
